

Media Companies: Breaking News in SEC Filings

The 2020 challenge: COVID-19 turned the world upside down with quarantines, people adjusting to working remotely, plunging corporate profits, market volatility, increasing refinancing and reorganizations, a growing demand for credit extensions, and shrinking budgets. All these factors and more create a huge challenge to public companies.

Why not "scoop" the story first? Real-time alerting on your subject areas, companies or industries enable you to be the first to discover and expose breaking news or delve a little deeper into the company's background, management, and historical stock pricing. Investigative reporters gather the pre-calculated statistics on current topics such as the effects of COVID 19 on businesses, industry trends, stock trends, winners and losers, and stimulus PPP loans.

Kaleidoscope real-time email alerts enable reporters and editors to "scoop" the news from authoritative company information! And its affordable! It's a flexible, easy to use, cloud-based research platform that delivers the alerts and immediate access to the details. No installation required. No special hardware. This solution gives you instant access to information no matter where you are.
